RABBI'S COLUMN

Jewish Happiness

What makes you happy? Is it the love of your family and friends? Is it waking up in the knowledge that you are healthy and able to meet the day before you? Is it the simple pleasure of the enjoyment of food? Is it a sense of spiritual calm?

The search for happiness is, perhaps surprisingly, what the month of Adar is all about. This year, we are blessed with two months of Adar – just think . . . this year's "leap month" brings us double the opportunity for happiness! In considering the holiday of Purim and our ancestors' successful avoidance of their pending genocide, the Sages decided that not only should the day of Purim be one filled with dance, drink, and dazzle, but that we should approach the entire month of Adar with a lighter swing in our step. After all, they clearly reasoned, there is no greater happiness than being allowed to live and to do so in peace.

And so we are commanded, essentially, to be happy at the arrival of the month of Adar. So I ask you: What makes you happy?

What makes me happy is a sense of safety and comfort that comes from a combination of things, not the least of which is the peace I receive from spiritual pursuits such as prayer and small acts of kindness. I strongly suggest that we all need a life filled with spiritual moments, however they appear in our lives. And yet, I believe that thriving and not just surviving in one's life requires us to seek out the connections we have to that which is greater than ourselves. Frankly, we can do this in many ways.

If you are connected to Temple Beth Shalom, however, I suspect that there is some aspect of prayer or the physical act of creating and sharing a community with fellow Jews that makes your life more meaningful. What makes us and most Jews happy, then, is to be a "creator," of sorts. Clearly, this is the case for me or else I would not have been driven to become a Rabbi.

So, how do we bring even greater happiness to our lives? I would argue that, if you are reading this, you might consider joining us regularly (or even irregularly) at Shabbat and holiday services, donating time or money to the holy endeavor that is Temple Beth Shalom, or becoming involved in the day-to-day tasks that transform our shul by the sea from just another congregation into a vibrant and warm community. None of these require a great deal of time or effort (or money), but the happiness you receive in return is without measure.

As you consider this Adar just how you will fulfill the mitzvah of being happy, I hope that you take a look at our website (www.seashul.org), peruse its calendar, come to services and events, and drop me or our President, Lillian Shender, an email or give us a ring to let us know how you'd like to be happy by being a part of this holy place.

Finding holiness is often viewed as a very serious pursuit. Part of what is wonderful about being Jewish is that it is much more than that – it is even a byproduct of being happy!

May you all have a very happy Purim and may your spirits rise with each moment of happiness you encounter . . . and make.

Rabbi Gerald R. Fox

Thank You

A very special thank you to Dr. Howard & Cheryl Hassman. With their extremely generous endowment made in honor of their parents, Dr. Joseph & Lillian Hassman, we were able to pay for our new ark curtain and Bimah cover. The balance of their gift will be used toward the purchase of new sanctuary chairs. We are truly grateful for their generosity to our humble Shul.

Thank you to Leon & Harriet Ackovitz for their generous donation to the Ackovitz Education fund.

Many, many thanks to the Krassenstein Foundation for their generous endowment.

Leaf on the Tree of Life

Purchased by Bret Bergman in memory of his grandparents, Ben & Ethel Hassman.

Condolences

Deepest sympathy to Martin & Tina Freedman on the passing of Martin's mother, Paula Freedman on Feb. 13.

Presidents' Column

Whatever you want to call it, its BAD thing.

For the past two Saturday Shabbat Services (January and February), we did not have a minyan. Only the same nine loyal people attended.

Our Rabbi and Sarah study and work hard to prepare for the reading of the Torah only to be disappointed and disheartened when because of the lack of a minyan, we can't read the Torah.

People coming to services to recite the Kaddish for their loved ones are frustrated. Again because of a lack of a minyan we cannot recite the Kaddish.

A good deal of time, effort and expense goes into purchasing and preparing the Kiddush luncheons.

When all this effort goes for naught, maybe we just shouldn't bother Is this the answer????????????

Of course not The answer is (the envelope please)YOU have to make a concerted effort to be here.

If you can't come at 10 a.m., come a little later so that we can read the Torah, we can recite the Kaddish prayer. Especially those of you who live here on the Island. I don't think it is too much to ask that you give an hour or two to support Your synagogue, Your religion, Your Jewish community.

So in closing my tirade of the month, let's make the March Saturday Service something to be proud of. Come!! Bring a friend!! Just Do It!!.

Lill Shender
President

MAY I HAVE YOUR ATTENTION PLEASE!

Are you celebrating a special day, honoring someone or remembering a loved one?

A good way to do this is to sponsor an Oneg Shabbat on a Friday night or a Saturday Kiddush Luncheon. It will make you feel good and will help your synagogue carry on this time honored tradition.

For only $25 for a Friday night or $100 for a Saturday luncheon, this has got to be the biggest bargain on the planet! Call Diane at 266-0403 and make you intentions known.

Happy
Purim

Mordechai & Queen Esther

The story of Queen Esther, her bravery and beauty, has been the stuff of legends for centuries. Ask any little girl what she wants to be on Purim, and the answer is almost always Queen Esther. Her story reads like a fairy tale. A Jewish orphan girl grows up and by a chance of fate, becomes Queen of Persia.

But it wasn't just fate, and really it wasn't much of a fairy tale.

Esther (Hadassah) found herself and her people in grave, mortal danger. Esther is a heroine for all time because she summoned the courage to act in a way that threatened her personal security and comfort. With the help of her uncle Mordechai, she overcame her fear, set a clever trap for Haman, and when the time was right, revealed her religion, and in so doing, saved her entire people. "For who knows, if not for this purpose alone were you placed in the King's palace," Mordechai told her.

Nothing happens by sheer coincidence. Even Mordechai realized that it wasn't just chance that placed Esther in a position to save her people. It wasn't just luck that caused him to overhear Bigthan and Teresh's assassination plot against the King.

The war of worlds in Persia was a continuation of the ancient hatred of the Amalekite kingdom against the Israelites. This time it was Haman, a direct descendent of King Agag verses Mordechai and Esther, descendants of King Saul, whose cosmic error in judgment spared the life of king Agag, otherwise the last survivor of the evil Amalekites.

And in a final twist of irony, it was Esther's grandson, King Cyrus, who allowed the Jews to return to Jerusalem to rebuild the second holy temple, this completing the cycle of persecution to redemption.

SAVE THE DATE

Through a very generous grant from the Civic Foundation, Inc., the play "Janka" will be presented as Brigantine's 11th Annual Holocaust Memorial Program.

This play, which has been performed throughout the United States and the United Kingdom, is the story of Janka Festinger, a Holocaust survivor, who near the end of her life, struggled to relate her experiences in the concentration camps to her son. Son and playwright, Oscar Space, states that her story "demonstrates the humanity we all share." Janice Noga, Janka's daughter-in-law, brings her back to life in a very moving performance.

Because of the play's popularity, there will be two performances in Brigantine: Wednesday and Thursday evenings, June 18 and 19 at 7 p.m. at the Brigantine Library. Admission is free, but due to limited seating, reservations are absolutely required.

A dessert buffet will follow each performance. Reservations will be accepted beginning in May. Please call the library at 609-266-0110. This event is coordinated by Gloria Jacoby, former President of Temple Beth Shalom and Chairperson of Brigantine's Annual Holocaust Memorial Program.
