RABBI'S COLUMN

A Jewish Spring Cleaning

There is an old Yiddish phrase, "mentsch macht und Gott lacht," loosely translated as, "a person makes life plans, and God just laughs."

So it was for nearly all of us this Winter! January and February were a blizzard (pun intended) of rain, snow, ice, and wind, wind, wind! Like many of you with homes not at the shore, my wife and I are still waiting for all of our ice dams to "burst" and for the last of the snow-ice clumps holding down our azaleas to "let our shrubs go free." Hopefully, as you read this, we will all be beyond the coldest storms and on to thinking about the arrival of Spring.

And Spring is what we look forward to with the coming of Nisan and Pesach (Passover). In the Torah, we are told that our ancestors were to commemorate their freedom by marking the Exodus in the first month of the year, the month of Aviv. (Today, this is the month we call, "Nisan.") The very name of this month and the commemoration celebrated in it are "in sync" with each other: "Aviv," also the word for "Spring," and the Exodus, which is what we are to celebrate, are both about rebirth. Throughout the winter, life does not disappear but rather it is sleeping, withdrawn if you will, only to awaken in the spring. So, too, was the experience of our ancestors – while they did not cease to exist during their long suffering in Egypt, they went to sleep, only to be awakened 400 years later by Moses acting on God's behalf. It is their trek into the wilderness, a place without reference points like a clean slate, that enables them to remake themselves without all of the noise and influence of the dominant Egyptian society.

I am guessing that I would be hitting close to home if I said to you that many of us become complacent, attached even, to past ways of doing things, of living our lives. There is something to be said for that, but it is all too often a trap that leads us away from who we really are and that rigidity can be stifling as much as it can help us remember our core values. The confluence of the story of Pesach and the season of rebirth and renewal leads us to a simple lesson: Let us examine how we are stuck in the winter of our own lives. And let us ask ourselves, "How might I benefit from the freeing nature of a little "personal spring cleaning?"

Let us approach March and the Pesach holiday that arrives at the end of the month as an opportunity to examine our lives. And once we've found the ways in which we are bound in place, let us resolve to break our chains and make our way toward Har Sinai (Mount Sinai) to receive God's law and to free our lives from the smallness that restricts us within and around it. Only then may we approach Pesach with an open heart and a willingness to "spring forward" to free ourselves and those around us.

In the end, we must remember that it is up to us: Each of us is capable of being our best, and we can always "awaken" ourselves to welcome that which is the very best of who we are – as a Jew and as a human being.

May you and all of yours find freedom from all that imprisons you and may your rebirth and renewal taste even more sweet than you could ever imagine.

"Ah zissen und ah kasher Pesach" – a sweet and a kosher Passover!

Presidents' Column

Think SPRING . . . think flowers, green grass, beautiful flowering trees, lots of sunshine, beach time, etc.

I don't know about you but, I have had it with snow. The only blizzard I want to hear about is the one they sell at Dairy Queen.

Soon the snowbirds will be returning to our Island and things will once again be humming at our Temple. It was a long hard winter with the loss of so many of our members and the cancellation of our long awaited trip to Israel. I, for one, am looking to a new beginning.

So . . . bring on Spring!

Let me wish you and yours a Happy Purim and a Joyous Pesach.

Lill Shender
President

MAY I HAVE YOUR ATTENTION PLEASE!

Are you celebrating a special day, honoring someone or remembering a loved one?

A good way to do this is to sponsor an Oneg Shabbat on a Friday night or a Saturday Kiddush Luncheon. It will make you feel good and will help your synagogue carry on this time-honored tradition.

For only $25 for a Friday night or $100 for a Saturday luncheon, this has got to be the biggest bargain on the planet! Call Diane at 266-0403 and make your intentions known.

Persons of the Month

Steve and Roz Weinstein

Before we were married in 1983, friends introduced us to Brigantine. We fell in love with the wide beautiful beaches and the relative calm of the island. In 1984, shortly after buying our first condo on 44th Street, we took a walk around the block and, with delight, discovered this charming little synagogue. With services led by Len Coplein and a welcoming congregation, we knew we'd found a "home" amongst this hamishe group and with dues at $70 a couple including break the fast, what could be better! A few years later we sold our weekend get-away and left Brigantine for 8 years. But the draw was too great and in 1993 opportunity knocked bringing us back to the island. We immediately rejoined and, to our surprise, the shul had a rabbi, Sandy Hahn, recently retired from the Germantown Jewish Center, our Philadelphia synagogue. Next came Rabbi Roz and now we have Rabbi Fox. Some friends have left and new ones have come, but whenever we walk through those doors, always being warmly welcomed, we know we're home again.

PURIM - FEBRUARY 28

Enjoy Purim this year. Its festivities of Hamentashen and synagogue parties make it a day of happiness on Sunday, February 28. Its hero is Queen Esther who stops the evil of Haman from killing all the Jews of Persia.

Len Coplein Library

You are invited to browse through the library in the office. Anything you want to know about Judaism is available there. There are children's books, novels and information about Jewish holidays.

When your skin needs what a salon can't provide...

Spa and salon facials may make you feel better, but when aging and sun-damaged skin, brown spots, unwanted hair, uneven skin tone, wrinkles and furrows need real results, you need the skin care of medically trained skin care specialists.

Passover is in a few weeks and here are some points you might want to consider:

- A group of leading medical researchers have published data indicating that Seder participants should NOT partake of both chopped liver and charoses. It seems that this combination can lead to Charoses of the Liver.
- At our Seder, we had whole wheat and bran matzo, fortified with Metamucil. The brand name, of course, is "Let My People Go."

Congratulations

To one of our Advertisers – Dr. Jill Morrison and her husband, Eric Tucker, on the birth of their baby boy, Carson, who was born on January 6, 2010. Best wishes to the happy family!

Fighting our Present-Day Pharaohs this Passover

from Rabbi Marvin Hier, SWC Dean & Founder

Each year, as we sit around the Seder table, the text of the Haggadah takes us back to Pharaoh and the plagues, and we read about the Talmudic sages who stayed up all night retelling the story of the Exodus.

The reason it took all night? Because the story of the Exodus is a continuing story – and when we read that narrative, we must connect it to the present day Pharaohs – the Ahmadinejads, who deny the Holocaust and seek nuclear weapons to threaten the world and Khaled Meshaal, the leader of Hamas, who seeks to bring terror to the streets of Jerusalem and Tel Aviv; to the modern day plagues – the Israel haters who chant in the streets of Los Angeles and New York, “Jews to the ovens;” to the UN Human Rights Council that demonizes only one country – the State of Israel.

But the Passover story is not only about oppression and slavery – it’s about freedom and redemption – it’s about taking responsibility for our own destiny – it’s about fighting back – it’s about standing up to the Holocaust deniers – speaking out and confronting the terrorists groups and their apologists!!
