RABBI'S COLUMN

Making an Anchor of Ourselves

In a world partly defined by the ever-increasing buzz of human beings doing what human beings do, it is hard to find an empty spot. Even more so, these days, I can assure you that it is hard to find a quiet spot! We are lucky to share an island, a community, and a shul where there is both the opportunity for connection and for quiet reflection.

In a figurative sense, that is where we find ourselves in the secular month of October. In fact, you may find yourself nodding your head in agreement when you read these words: There is a kind of eeriness to this year's Jewish calendar. Like its seasonal disjunctiveness, we feel unsure of ourselves – I have already heard from several congregants regarding their disrupted sleep patterns and a feeling of being unmoored from a normally predictable and rigid schedule.

So, in a world in which seasons seem disconnected from the normal patterns of our lives, how do we regain control and find firmer footing? Our most well-known Sage, Hillel, answers our malaise both directly and indirectly with these words (Mishnah Pirkei Avot 2:5):

Do not separate yourself from the community; do not be sure of yourself until the day of your death; do not judge another until you stand in his place; do not say something that cannot be understood, thinking that it may be understood one day; do not say, "when I have time, I will study," as you may never have the time to do so.

On the surface, Hillel's directions may themselves seem disconnected. They are not. Hillel (and Judah HaNasi, the redactor of the Mishnah) has cleverly made the associations between several behaviors that help to define a person and to bring them the grounding and the clarity necessary to live a full life. Ultimately, the theme of humility sews his words into a beautiful garment that, if accepted and acted upon, can only serve to warm our souls. Hillel is clear, and I think very right: We need each other; we cannot exist (or at least not comfortably so) without the wisdom we pass along to each other, both inherited and earned through the experiences.

Temple Beth Shalom Learner's Minyan

Have you ever sat in shul and felt uncomfortable or confused or that you just didn't belong? Now is your chance to begin to change that – join us for the first ever TBS Learner's Minyan!

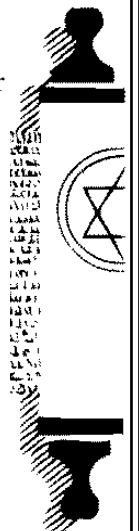

Communal prayer is meant to be both meaningful and moving. After all, the act of praying may be a mystical experience, but it needn't be so mysterious that after the service is over you don't know if you've had a spiritual experience or not!

Join Rabbi Fox and your fellow congregants (and welcome visitors) for a tour through the structure of the Shabbat morning service, with a special focus on the meaning and recitation of key selections. Following our learning about the service, we will discuss the weekly Torah portion.

Finally, we will conclude with the blessings over the wine and bread as we join together to share a delicious Shabbat Kiddush lunch.

Let's start the New Year right by increasing our Jewish knowledge and expanding our spiritual awareness.

10am to 12pm noon, October 12, 2013; Kiddush lunch to follow.

Do you have friends or neighbors who could join us?*

IN MEMORIUM

We sadly note the passing of one of our founders, Bernard "Bernie" Cohen.

Bernie passed away on September 4, 2013 (Erev Rosh Hashanah) with services being held on September 9 here in Bernie's beloved synagogue.

Bernie was instrumental in procuring the land, the raising of funds and the construction of our building along with our other founders.

He served as president of the congregation and was involved in getting us our first Rabbi. He gave generously of his time and money.

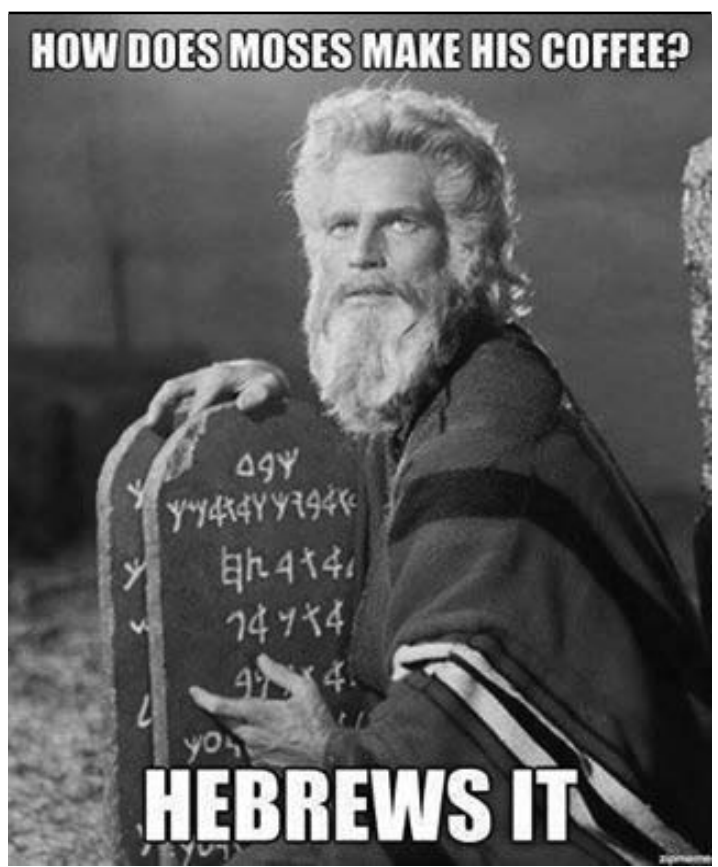

He made sure that the building was open, the coffee and tea made and the oneg was set up for our Friday night services.

He is survived by his son Jerry, daughter-in-law Sheila and grandson Daryl, granddaughter-in-law Cheryl and sister-in-law Martha.

You will be greatly missed by all of us. Rest in Peace, Bernie.

Today I am a Good Jewish Boy!!

Celebrate with Rabbi and Sarah Fox As Matan and Doron experience the Jewish custom of Upsherin.

Sunday, October 13 11:30 a.m. to 1:00 p.m.

Rabbi and Sarah's twin boys will experience the first cutting of their hair followed by each one receiving his first kippah of his very own to wear chosen by himself. As a child turns three-years-old, parents are obligated to teach him (or her) the wisdom of our ancestors; this is the traditional beginning of a child's formal Jewish education.

While the customs followed in each Upsherin may vary, they always include the recitation of the Aleph-Bet with dots of honey or the like, blessings, learning, and celebratory food with a focus on sweets. In some communities, music and dancing, are included, as well!!

Rabbi Fox and Sarah invite you to attend the ritual and to join in the joy of the day. If you would like to participate more directly in this milestone, you might consider joining in to cut a small lock of hair and then matching the honor of participating in Matan's and Doron's "growing up" and beginning their Jewish education by making a modest donation into a "pushke" that will be on hand for this special occasion (the funds collected will be sent to a charity named on that day). If you cannot be present to share in the joy of the day, you may still participate in honoring this milestone with Matan and Doron, by making a donation in their name to Temple Beth Shalom.

DON'T MISS THIS RARE OPPORTUNITY TO SHARE IN AN UNUSUAL AND JOYOUS JEWISH CUSTOM WITH OUR RABBI AND HIS FAMILY!!

The Ritual begins at 11:30 a.m. and the festivities will be completed by 1:00 p.m. While not required, please RSVP to the synagogue office to help to guide food purchases.

Prayer Book Dedication

We are offering you a chance to purchase a memorial/honorarium plaque to be placed in our new prayer books (inside front cover) for only $36. We have only 27 books remaining for dedication, so call the office at 609-266-0403 and make your wishes known.

MAY I HAVE YOUR ATTENTION PLEASE!

Are you celebrating a special day, honoring someone or remembering a loved one?

A good way to do this is to sponsor an Oneg Shabbat on a Friday night or a Saturday Kiddush. It will make you feel good and will help your synagogue carry on this time-honored tradition. For only $25 for a Friday night or $100 for a Saturday Kiddush lunch, this has got to be the biggest bargain on the planet! Call Diane at 266-0403 and make your intentions known.

Simply Shirley . . .

Welcome to my fellow readers

I would like to begin by mentioning some of the past events which took place and are memorable:

Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur services were truly inspiring and Rabbi Fox along with Rabbi Alan LaPayover made this a very special time for all who attended. The Break the Fast was delicious and very well planned. We are so lucky to have Lill and Ron along with their helpers who we know we can always count on.

Next came the putting up of the Sukkah which was done by a loyal group of professional Sukkah putter uppers (so I made up my own words), and may I add they did a fabulous job. Of course this was followed by the feast in the Sukkah. Our own chefs "The Shenders" prepared a feast which could not have been better if it had been prepared at one of the finest restaurants, along with the crew who helped serve, clean up, bring wine, ice, etc. the evening was a complete success.

The book club met on Monday, September 23 and our sponsor was Lorraine Stolove, who did a great job. The book reviewed was: "Cutting for Stone" by Abraham Verghese – an unforgettable story of love and betrayal and forgiveness. Once again the discussion was most interesting and it was great being with our fellow bookies who attended.

The next book club date is: Monday, October 21 and will be held at The Community Center, Room 139, at 1 p.m., and will be hosted by Karen Sederholm. The book to be reviewed is: "Turbulent Souls" by Stephen Dubner.

Please contact Shirley at 609-266-8599 or ssmorgan3@verizon.net should you be interested in being added to our book club list.

On a sad note, we lost one of our Founders, Bernie Cohen, who lived life the way he wanted to. He will be missed.

*Until I write again,
Simply Shirley*

When we maintain friendships and connections with people around us, things go better for us; when we accept that our vision is only a part of a whole truth, we open ourselves to growth; when we marry being clear and honest with a love of our neighbor, we cannot possibly hurt ourselves or others; and when we accept that the task of living life (and learning from it) only ends when we release ourselves from our obligations to each other or are relieved of our lifebreath, we live every moment most fully and most richly.

To follow the nautical theme a bit further to its conclusion, the answer then is simple: To find mooring when we are adrift, we must anchor ourselves to each other.

With that as a backdrop, I hope you find comfort in this advice: Make invitations and accept them; gather together for prayer and for worldly pursuits; and find reasons to love your neighbor . . . you may be the only one who will.

In this way, you will fill the emptiness with all that is holy and, in return, you will receive the gift of an indescribable calm found in the repeatedly reinforced knowledge that you are on the right path as each day unfolds before you.

May each of us find the warmth of fellowship despite the increasingly chilly days of Autumn, and may we be blessed to share the same gift with others.

Rabbi Gerald R. Fox
